

Carey McWilliams Award Recipients

The Carey McWilliams prize is awarded annually to honor a major journalistic contribution to our understanding of politics. It carries a $750 prize. Eligible candidates must meet the criteria laid forth by the first organizing committee. The individual chosen:

- should have a distinguished public service career in newspaper, magazine or broadcast media;
- should, in his or her work, illumine some broad general principles of the social and political sciences;
- may have a background in editorial activities and not necessarily be a working journalist or writer; and
- should illumine certain key elements identified with McWilliams, which include intellectual forthrightness and political independence.
